The Secretary of Defense, Dr. William Perry, has mandated the use of commercial products in military systems. This is a reversal for the military, who have historically used military grade, hermetically sealed ceramic microcircuits.

To assist this transition, the SHARP Program and the Naval Surface Warfare Center, Crane Division, are presenting the 5th annual "Commercial & Plastic Components in Military Applications" workshop. The goals of the workshop are to:

- 1) Inform the participants of the current use of commercial components in military and industrial applications.
- 2) Discuss issues and problems concerning the use of commercial components in military applications.

The two day program will feature speakers from industry and government, panel discussions and breakout groups. A dinner, with guest speaker CDR Robert Petroka, Head, DoN Standardization Office, ASN (RDA) Acquisition Reform Office, will be held the evening of the 20th.
